so what can we do? harm reduction programs such as the one in vancouver, canada, have shown more success than the war on drugs